- 6) In December 2016 Edgar Welch drove six hours from his home to Washington DC, where he opened fire in a pizzeria with an assault rifle. He had previously read an online news story about the restaurant being the headquarters of a group of child abusers run by Hillary Clinton. He decided to investigate for himself; fortunately no one was hurt.
The story about Hilary Clinton is one of the most famous examples of the growing phenomenon dubbed "fake news". The conspiracy theory about the pizzeria began to appear on websites and social networks in late October, before the US election. This was quickly denounced by publications such as The New York Times and The Washington Post. However, many people thought that these papers were themselves lying for political ends and instead of disappearing, the fake story snowballed. Why did Edgar Wench go to the pizzeria?
- A He had been concerned after reading an untrue new story
B He was trying to commit robbery
C He was working as a private investigator and investigating a crime
